
WE HAVE BEEN TAKEN to task for a recent column in which we waxed indignant over the obscene four-letter word that had been emblazoned on a building next to the C. of C. office on Rincon, and across from the West Valley College parking lot.

In the column we claimed that some kook who wanted to express himself in a BIG way must have done the painting.

In the same column it was mentioned that there were a number of long-hair male students and their mini-skirted girl friends attending West Valley College. Apparently by their long hair, beards, and short skirts, they are trying to show that they were part of the so-called "rebellion" of the tiny minority of students against the "establishment" as represented by the older generation.

WE CONCEDED that it was the young people's business, if they wanted to be unattractive with this long hair.

But when they infringe on the rights of others and feel they are immune from the basic rules for decency that have been established for society, we think the kooks should crawl back into their holes.

Perhaps we are being too conventional with this attitude. Maybe the moral standards of our society should be changed. But until they are, if anyone wants to be a member of the society, he should stick to the rules. Or form another society.

But to get back to the criticism of the said column.

The Rev. A.D. (Kit) Carson, vicar of St. Lawrence Episcopal Church in Campbell, really told us off.

And we quote:

"DEAR EDITOR:

Two reactions to your 'Out on the Limb' tirade of Wednesday last--

1) What is the relationship (other than in your own imagination) between the 'long hairs' of West Valley College, which you find so objectionable, and the four-letter word emblazoned next to the Chamber of Commerce office?

I think that four-letter word was placed there by a little old lady who teaches Sunday School and plays first tambourine in the Salvation Army Band; and I wager I have as much evidence as you for my conclusion!

2) If you, and others, would get as exercised over the real obscenity around us, rather than the trivia of a four letter word, we might see some positive growth in the area of human relationships and concern---

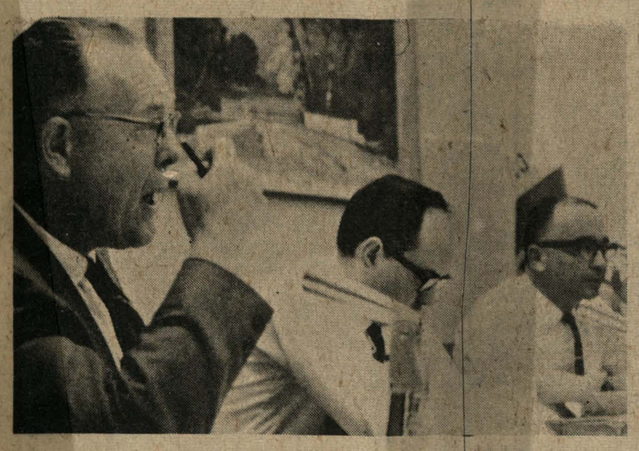
Drive-in issue goes to council after planners' denial



PLANNERS PONDER--Members of the Planning Commission on Monday night turned thumbs down on the request for a use permit for the almost-ready-to-open drive-in theater off Union Ave. They also refused to recommend the necessary change in the city's ordinance to allow a theater.

Commission turns down use permit for almost-ready-to-open theater

If the Winchester Drive-in Theater, located off McGlincey Ln. and Union Ave. now in county territory, is to be annexed to the City of Campbell and granted the necessary city use permits to operate, the City Council next Monday night will have to initiate the necessary legal steps all by itself.

No help can be expected from the Planning Commission. That's for sure.

That was indicated Monday night when the Planning Commission in a marathon session lasting until 1 a.m., by a unanimous (6-0) vote, refused to recommend the necessary ordinance change to allow a drive-in theater in a M-1-S zone with a use permit.

USE PERMIT

By the same vote, the commission denied the application for a use permit to allow the use of the access roads for the theater and then continued until March 20 any action on the request for a use permit and architectural approval of the existing theater, now almost ready to open.

The action of the Planning Commission however, did not change the interim zoning ordinance adopted by the City Council on Feb. 13 to allow the drive-in theater in M-1-S zoning with a use permit.

The interim zoning will be in effect until May 13, 1967.

NEGOTIATIONS

The adoption of the interim zoning measure by the City Council stemmed directly from the negotiations that had taken place between the city and representatives of Syufy Enterprises, owners of the theater.

Around a conference table, the city and theater agreed to end the warfare that had begun in November, 1965, when the Syufy Enterprises first applied to the county for a zone change on the Scorsur property in order to build the theater.

Because the zoning of Campbell that was then in effect on property adjacent to the theater did not allow a drive-in theater, the City of Campbell protested the county action that approved the theater.

SUIT FILED

Campbell's protests on the county level were to no avail. A suit was then filed by the city against the operation on the basis that the access roads within the city limits of Campbell were part of the theater operation.

The court upheld Campbell's contention and, thus, in effect, the almost-completed theater had no way for customers to get to it.

As a result of the negotiations, the theater owners agreed to annex to Campbell (and such a petition has been filed) and also to meet a number of conditions that the city would levy on it, including the picking up of the tab for litigation expenses amounting to about $10,000.

CITY CHARGES

In turn, the city agreed to change the ordinance to allow drive-in theaters and to process the use permits that would be necessary under such an amendment. To expedite matters, the council, after confirming and ratifying the settlement and compromise stipulations, adopted the interim zoning measure which permits the theater to get under way with a use permit.

PLANNERS ACTION

Because of the action of the Planning Commission Monday night in opposing the council's evident intent, Syufy Enterprises have appealed the commission's denial of the use permit to the City Council.

The council can overrule the commission by a majority vote. (For the first time in a month, a full council is expected next Monday as Councilman Ed Rogers has returned from a five-week tour of Latin America).

The text amendment, was also turned down by the commission, will not come before the City Council next Monday as new public hearings on it must be scheduled. City Manager Bob Stephens indicated this week that the proposed amendment may be redrafted before it is submitted.

OTHER MATTERS

With the exception of routine approval of four signs (Dog House at 1651 W. Campbell for R.T. Sifford; boat shop at 962 Camden for J. Polen; Benson's Campbell Cleaners at 507 E. Campbell and Triple XXX at 1535 Bascom) and plans for a building for Pete Cristich at 70 Cristich Lane and a four-unit apartment at 61 Superior Dr. for Ross W. Owens, the entire session Monday night at the Planning Commission was devoted to the drive-in theater and its many ramifications.

The drive-in theater case was presented by Attorney Robert L. Blake aided by Vincent G. Raney, architect for the theater.

Although City Attorney Joe Bonacina had suggested to the Planning Commission that the use permits should be taken up before

Full Council to break deadlock next Monday

Campbell's City Council, which in a number of instances recently had been forced into an even 2-2 split because of the absence of one councilman (Ed Rogers), will not have that problem next Monday night as they face a number of controversial issues.

Dr. Rogers, who is on sabbatical leave as professor at San Jose State, has returned from a five-week Latin American trip. Thus the possibility of a stalemate in the balloting will be remote.

Up to bat again will be the appeal of the Campbell Union High School District from the restrictions levied by the fire department for the proposed use of the old Nelson Bros. hardware building at 275 E. Campbell for offices.

The fire department maintains that the building is sub-standard and is a fire hazard. The school district, which desires to lease the structure, owned by Milt and Clarence Nelson, for three years, claims the proposed use is less hazardous than that of the hardware store which operated there for so many years.

The Planning Commission has issued a use permit for the district.

At the last council meeting, Mayor Ralph Doetsch and Councilman Charles Rose voted to lift the fire department restrictions with Councilmen Bill Smeed and Homer Hyde opposing them.

The council will also have to act on the appeal of the Syufy Enterprises from the Planning Commission decision Monday night denying a use permit for Winchester Drive-in Theater off Union Ave. and McGlincey Ln. (see separate story).

SIGN ORDINANCE

Up for first reading by the City Council is the long-awaited new sign ordinance for the city. The Planning Commission recently approved the ordinance which had been drafted by city staff, commission members and Chamber of Commerce committee members.

When it was approved by the commission, it was called a community-wide rather than just a city effort to adopt an ordinance to fit the community.

The council may also appoint a member to the Planning Commission to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Hal Lee. Councilman Smeed and Hyde have been named to a committee to interview applicants for the position.

The council is also expected to act on the request of Dr. Jack Hughes who has protested the requirement that an electrolier, as shown in the original plans, be installed at the Hamilton Medical Center, owned by Hughes and his associates.

Bill Wren, public works director, is scheduled to make a report on the matter.

Incumbent trustees face challenge

Incumbent trustees in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District will be challenged for reelection to the board by four other candidates for the two positions that are open. Filing deadline was last Friday.

Election will be on Tuesday, April 18.

One of the challengers in the Campbell elementary district will be Mrs. Sara Fischer, of 950 Almarida, Campbell, widow of Jack Fischer, who died last September. Fischer had been principal of San Tomas School for 14 years.

The terms of William Parton, 1380 Ridgeley Dr., Campbell and Theo (Ted) Sedgwick, 1275 Woodlawn Ave., San Jose, are expiring. They have both filed for reelection.

In addition to Mrs. Fischer, and the incumbents, the other candidates for positions are Richard MacQuiddy, a psychologist, 38 Decorah Lane, Campbell, formerly on the district staff; Bernard L. Weddell, CPA-educator and A.W. (Bert) Little, a draftsman, 890 Monica Lane, Campbell.

In the Campbell Union High School District, terms of two board members, E.M. (Doc) Arends, of 716 Cambrian Dr., Campbell, local businessman, and W.L. Murphy, 14942 Larga Vista, Los Gatos, orchardist, are expiring.

One other candidate, Mrs. Miriam Resnick, of 1690 Cabana, San Jose, housewife, has filed for the position.

Arends, long-time resident of the area, is completing 15 years on the board, ever since 1952. Murphy was originally elected to the board in 1957 and served until 1965. He did not run for reelection in 1965 but was appointed again to the board last year.

The goals of the city

Members of the steering committee, moderators, and other interested citizens of Campbell's first Congress for Community Progress that was held on Feb. 13, will meet Thursday, March 9, for an evaluation and summary of the congress.

At this meeting the reports and recommendations will be discussed with the objective of seeing how the recommendations can be developed and actually put to work to make our community a better place in which to live and work.

Although we firmly believe that the Congress for Community Progress was one of the most worthwhile projects ever to take place in this community, unless a "follow-through" is carried out, the Congress will not have fulfilled its purpose.

For that reason, this evaluation meeting that will be held in the office building occupied by the Chamber of Commerce offices at 100 W. Rincon at 7:30 p.m. this Thursday is an integral part of the program.

Vitally interested in the Congress and the "grass roots" reaction of the citizens, naturally, are members of the City Council and the administration staff headed by City Manager Bob Stephens.

We believe of paramount interest to the citizens of our town is the personal evaluation of the recommendations of the Congress that was made by City Manager Stephens following the Feb. 13 sessions.

At a recent meeting of the City Council, the city manager, in rough draft form, submitted his report to the City Council.

In his covering memo to the City Council, "Image and Goals of the City", the city manager explained that one of the objectives of the advanced planning program now underway in the city was to determine what kind of a city we want.

"It was also evident at the Congress", Stephens reported, "that the people are urging the City to establish an image toward which we can work."

With that in mind, Stephens submitted his report under the heading of "What Kind of a City Do We Want? or "An attempt to document the goals of the city."

Because we believe that this effort on the part of City Manager Stephens is an outstanding and sincere attempt to "put on paper" just what our goals should be, we are publishing his report in full.

The report of our city manager represents the thinking of a dedicated city official whose primary objective is to strive for a better community with the tools he has available.

The extent of the "tools", of course, will be dependent on how the people themselves feel about their community and how far and how fast they want to go in the improvement of their city.

This preliminary report of the city manager on his personal evaluation of the recommendations of the Congress makes no attempt to show how the objectives can be realized or does he try to explain how much it will cost.

It is merely a summary of the recommendations, but it does give an overall picture of the kind of a city that we want. Whether we can get it, is actually up to us.

We think it makes good reading:

THE CITY OF CAMPBELL

What Kind of a City Do We Want?

(An attempt to document the goals of the city)

By Robert Stephens, city manager

A City working for a traffic circulation system which will provide ease of access in and out of the City; well integrated with the State freeway and County expressway system; yet designed to allow only the minimum of commuter traffic within the residential areas.

A City with well maintained streets, tree lined. A synchronized signalization system, safe pedestrian walkways and crosswalks; and traffic laws strictly enforced.

A City which has earned a reputation of actively cooperating with other governmental agencies in joint programs which are in the best interests of the community's youth, adults and senior citizens.

A City recognized by the commercial and industrial community as having fair, consistent and reasonable zoning, building, and offsite requirements and fees.

A City with one of the permanent campuses of the West Valley College District.

A City which involves the citizens to the maximum, thereby insuring responsive municipal home rule government.

A City which provides the highest levels of service to its citizens within its ability to pay for these services.

A City determined to improve its physical image with voluntary financial and manpower support from the public agencies, civic organizations and private enterprise.

A City recognized as the Commercial and Light Industrial Center of the West Santa Clara Valley progressively improving on the quality of these non-residential type of users.

gained over a long period of time from being exposed to the problems that have faced many cities in this state.

Not only have we been exposed as a newspaperman to the problems, but years and years ago we had the distinction of being the youngest city councilman ever elected in the state.

For that reason perhaps we have been overly-sympathetic, as we watch the city fathers ride the horns of the dilemma on many issues with which they have been confronted.

TAKE THE DRIVE-IN theater problem as a f'instance.

We could have written three editorials, each strongly defending a different position as to the proper approach on this question.

And each position has considerable merit.

Unfortunately, the City Council could only make one decision; not three.

Or take the problem involving the use by the high school district of the old Nelson brothers hardware building on Campbell Ave.

JUST WHAT WOULD YOU do in that instance, if you are so darn smart?

Fire Chief George Maxwell and Fire Marshal Gene Borden claim that the building is a fire hazard and should not be used. There is no way, they maintain, to "bring it up to code".

Larry Hill, school district superintendent, and the owners of the building, Milt and Clarence Nelson, maintain that the use the school district has in mind is less hazardous than its former use as a hardware store.

And the school district only wants to use it for three years.

Plans for the improvement of Campbell Ave. are still in the future, say at least two years.

THEREFORE, the question seems to be whether there is anything to be gained by having a vacant building or an empty lot at 275 E. Campbell Ave. for three years while waiting for the street improvements to get off the ground.

Or is the building safe enough for the school district to get some use of it during this waiting period.

If George and Gene did not call the council's attention to the condition of the building relative to the potential fire hazards involved, they would have been derelict in their duty, in our opinion.

On the other hand, the fire hazards apparently are not any more critical now than they had been these past many years when the hardware store was operating full blast.

So we repeat.

Just what would you do?

Letters to the Editor

CHILDREN'S SAFETY

Dear Editor:

There seems to be a great misunderstanding about the residents of the City of Campbell, in regard to pedestrian safety at the San Tomas Expressway. There has been much said lately about the extent of the participation of San Jose residents in this issue.

I would like to make it clear to you, your readers, and the City of Campbell, once and for all, that the majority of the people concerned are taxpaying residents of the City of Campbell. Not only are there many more Campbell residents involved, but we have been active in this matter for a longer time.

May I refer you to a letter published in The Press while the expressway was still under construction. The letter, from Mr. Kenneth Sanders, of Campbell, stated that the residents wanted something for the children's safety then, and something for the future. That statement referred to a pedestrian overpass.

I feel, as I'm sure as most parents do, that the safety of children should know no boundries. Although we are grateful for everyone's help, I feel the City of Campbell should take more heed of the Campbell residents' needs and wants instead of trying to push the blame onto someone else to make it appear that Campbell residents are not interested.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Edward Boos

INCOME TAX

Dear Editor:

Since everyone is concerned about income tax at this time of year, I have a suggestion to make for the future.

All of us should write to our Congressman immediately requesting that he help us to petition a raise to $1000 instead of the usual $600 personal tax exemption.

When our constitution was made, we decided that our people would not be taxed.

However, the constitution was amended and in 1939 we were being taxed - and our personal exemption was $2500 plus $400 for each child.

To equal that level at today's cost of living, the exemption would have to be raised to $2000 per person or a total of $8000 in 1967 dollars.

Planning Commission denies drive-in theater use permit

COMMISSIONERS

The vote on the amendment allowing a drive-in theater in a M-1-S zone came after more than two hours of animated discussion in which, before the ballot was taken, each one of the commissioners took turns citing their opposition to any change in the ordinance.

Commissioner Thayer Lyons maintained that he was not opposed to such an operation, if it was in the proper location or proper zone. He added, however, he felt that the whole issue was "sickening" and he resented being bulldozed or bullied into approving the theater in industrial and not commercial zoning.

Commissioner Ed Pack maintained that it was a shame that such a large parcel of prime land would be used by a drive-in theater. The image of our community will only be improved, he added, by bringing in a better type of residential development.

Chairman Jack Healey said that it was difficult to justify a drive-in theater in that location and he thus could see no valid reason for changing the ordinance.

Commissioner Dean Chamberlin emphasized the responsibility of city authorities in such cases. Commissioners Kel Young and Frank Klein indicated the same feelings.

So the vote on Lyons motion carried unanimously.

USE PERMITS

After the refusal of the commission to go along with the text amendment, action on the use permits appeared to be anti-climatical, although almost three hours more were spent in discussion before votes were taken.

Involved first was the use permit to allow the access roads to be used. Attorney Blake, for the theater owners, suggested some minor changes in the 18 conditions that had been drafted as part of the use permit approval.

But the commission did not find it necessary to act on the suggested modifications, as the unanimous vote denying the use permit precluded any such steps.

The attorney raised the question over the requiring of underground utilities, as poles were already up. Interpretation of the conditions regarding fencing and policing was also asked.

SAHADI TAKES FLOOR

Fred Sahadi, owner of a plush apartment house on Union Ave. and part-owner of property immediately adjacent to the theater in which a mobile home park is planned took the floor for almost an hour in an attempt, he maintained, to get clarification of the complications in which the commission was involved.

Sahadi explained also how the theater would affect his own mobile home project. He claimed that the trees agreed upon the boundary line were not high enough. He emphasized his continued opposition and that he had fought the theater from the start but he had recognized a short time ago that apparently he was fighting a losing battle.

SURPRISE

But Sahadi also provided the surprise of the evening later on in the program after the commission had voted unanimously to deny the use permit for the access roads.

Sahadi again took the floor to argue that the commission should approve the use permit for the overall theater operation.

In the final vote, the commission voted (5-1) to continue the action on the use permit for the entire operation until March 20 when the matter of pre-zoning for the property will also be on the agenda. (Lyons voted no).

Before the final vote, Architect Raney defended the Syufy Enterprises for attempting to work out an agreement with the city. He maintained that the theater people had been badly mistreated for they were trying to do everything that they had agreed to do.

Although the council chambers were not as jammed as they had been on previous occasions when the drive-in was an issue, a number of interested people in attendance expressed their opposition to the theater, including Anthony J. Sota, 2222 Central Park Dr., president of the Cambrian-Dry Creek Homeowners Association, most of whose members reside in San Jose.

Another opposition speaker was Al Tofoya, 1341 E. Campbell.

Homeowners to adopt by-laws

Fred A. Scibuola of Campbell announces the formation of the West Rincon Homeowners Association. The next meeting of the group will be held on March 21 at Hazelwood School, 775 Waldo Rd., Campbell, in the school cafeteria.

The main purpose of the meeting will be the adoption of by-laws. Officers of the organization are Mike Malone, president; Art Olson, vice-president; Dick Bothman, treasurer; Janet States, secretary and Fred Scibuola, public relations and corresponding secretary.

'D.A.' to speak

District Attorney Louis A. Bergna will speak at 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, March 16 at the West Valley College auditorium, 51 E. Campbell Ave., under the auspices of the college's Business Club.

PTA NEWS

CASTRO JR. HIGH

Castro Junior High School PTA held its tenth annual Founders Day meeting last week. Two honorary life memberships, which are presented by the Parents and Teachers Association in recognition of individuals' outstanding contributions to children and youth, were presented.

Mrs. Dorothy Casjens and John Lloyd were the recipients for this year's awards. Mrs. Casjens has been a secretary at Castro for five years, and in addition to her secretarial duties, has contributed many hours toward the fulfillment of PTA objectives.

Lloyd has been a teacher at Castro since its opening ten years ago. He also has devoted many hours, above and beyond the duties of a teacher, toward the character building of youth.

A capacity crowd enjoyed the program which featured a scene from the PTA sponsored play, "Take Them, They're Ours", to be presented on May 20. The cast is composed of seventh and eighth grade students, and the play is being directed by Mrs. Jerome Cross.

Another feature of the program was a "Tribute to Fathers", a skit presented by six Castro students, directed by Mrs. Avis Burbidge and Tom Geran.

Guests present at the meeting included several past Castro PTA presidents, past honorary life membership recipients, and members of the Moreland School District Board of Trustees.

Judy Hernandez received two awards for her artistic division "Down by the Sea" and "Pussy Cat". Judy is a member of the Jet Planters, a new junior garden club organized by Mrs. Joseph Aversente of the Campbell Garden Club.

The Campbell Garden Club is the only garden club in Santa Clara Valley District which sponsors four junior college clubs and one high school garden unit. The junior clubs are The Camp Belles, The Baby Roses, The Busy Bees and the new group, The Jet Planters. They also sponsor the Camp Belles High School garden unit. There are 85 members in all.

Three of the junior garden clubs are taught flower arranging, horticulture, nature study, conservation, garden etiquette and litter prevention by Mrs. Aversente and hold meetings once a week at St. Lucy's School in Campbell.

In addition to the Junior Campbell entries, blue ribbons were awarded to Wes Douglas and Susan Douglas, of the Happy Harvesters sponsored by Las Jardineras Garden Club. Lynn Denman, Mary Lannin and Dorothy Glew, members of the Blossom Valley Bloomers Junior Garden Club and the Bloomettes, sponsored by the Blossom Garden Club were awarded blue ribbons. Wes Douglas received the junior achievement award for his entry in the horticulture division. Anyone interested in organizing a junior garden club is asked to call Mrs. Joesph Aversente, Santa Clara Valley District Jr. Garden Club chairman, 378-4111.

Work starts on sewer line on Meridian Road to Dry Creek

Work started Monday, March 6, on the installation of a major sanitary trunk sewer along Meridian Rd., according to Stephen H. Goodman, district manager and engineer of County Sanitation District No. 4.

The sewer construction is a joint project of the Sanitation District and the City of San Jose. Construction on Meridian Rd. will extend southerly from Pedro St. to Dry Creek Rd. over the next 12 weeks.

Actual construction will be confined to a relatively small area each day under a plan devised by the City of San Jose traffic analysts in cooperation with Santa Clara County traffic officials.

To minimize interference with the heavy traffic flow in Meridian Rd., work in north bound traffic lanes will commence after 8:30 a.m. and work in south bound traffic lanes will be terminated at 4 p.m.

Construction through the intersections of Meridian Rd. with Isabel, Willow and Hamilton avenues will be confined to Sundays.

Local traffic to business establishments on Meridian Rd. will not be materially affected by the construction since two way traffic will be maintained at all times on Meridian Rd. and entrances to business establishments will be kept open.

Goodman suggests that motorists using Meridian Rd. as a commute route seek an alternate route during the construction period to avoid possible delay. The alternate routes suggested are: (1) Leigh Ave. and Southwest Expressway; and, (2) Lincoln Ave., Minnesota Ave., and Hicks Ave.

The Meridian Rd. trunk sewer is a supplementary sanitary sewer being constructed to provide service for estimated year 2000 population in the Southwest Valley area. It is a part of the sewerage facilities being financed by a $7,500,000 bond issue approved by the voters within County Sanitation District No. 4 in 1965.

The "War on Paperwork" may be a losing battle, but the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee is still trying. It has completed a study, "How to Cut Paperwork", which analyzes 360,000 different forms, prepared in 15 billion copies printed at a cost of $53 million.

Federal agencies require one billion reports each year to keep the wheels of government turning--five for every person in the U.S. Two hundred fifty-five thousand people spend most of their time filing these records in 25 million cubic feet of space where they are kept for an average of nine years. It would take 2000 years to discard records now on file if we tore them up at the rate of one page per second.

Automation has aggravated the paperwork problem. In one year one computer produces a 1.3 mile high pile of paper--and the government now has 2600 computers!

Some of the increase results from the sheer growth of our country. Where President Roosevelt received 140,000 letters a year, 825,750 pieces of mail were addressed to President Johnson in 1965. In my own case, I can only keep one year's files in my new office. At the start of my career I was able to retain files over a four year period and store them in less than half the space. But there isn't much question that the mountains of paper have grown in geometric proportions to the growth of government.

The cost to the government for handling its own paperwork is $8 billion each year. But even more serious is the danger that the paperwork jungle may completely submerge the human creativity and ingenuity so vital to good government in these complex times.

There have been efforts to reduce the volumes of paperwork. In 1965 President Johnson imposed a moratorium on the purchase of new filing cabinets for an annual savings of $3.6 million, and in September of 1966 he called for the reduction of paperwork in general. The Veterans Administration streamlined its mail handling and saved $460,000. The State Department claims to have eliminated 49,608 reports between 1964 and 1966. The Department of Agriculture eliminated 318 of the 59,000 different forms and reports it uses. The American Management Society has recently honored forty federal employees who together saved more than $200 million by reducing paperwork. The 89th Congress passed a bill eliminating the requirement for twenty-three outdated reports and lowered the frequency of twenty-two others.

Much remains to be done. The House Committee report recommends for instance that Congress authorize and finance a broad, organized research program in paperwork practices and systems, and keep a sharp eye on the paperwork implications of all legislation. A recently introduced bill provided that one instead of two copies be required for certain welfare and pension plan applications. If passed it could save the government $100,000 annually.

But legislation alone will not cure the problem. The final responsibility must rest with each government bureau.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Q. I am already 65 and plan to retire at the end of June, but I would like to continue working part time, earning about $225 a month. I figure the last six months of the year at $225 per month will give me total earnings of $1350. Since this will be below $1500 per year, can I collect all my social security benefits for the six-month period?

A. Your earnings for the entire year--not just for the last six months--must be counted in determining how much of your social security benefits can be paid to you. The $1350 you expect to earn in the last six months of the year, when added to your earnings for January through June, may be so high that no benefits will be payable to you for the year. If, however, it turns out there are any months of the year in which you earn wages of $125 or less, you can collect your benefits for those year in which you earn wages of $125 or less, you can collect your benefits for those months regardless of the total amount of your earnings. This is an exception to the general rule, which recognizes that many people who may have been earning substantial wages do retire in the middle of the year, and enables them to collect their benefits for months in which they are actually retired.

Q. I own a dry-cleaning establishment which was left to me by my husband. Because of my physical condition, my daughter has taken over almost complete operation of the business so that all I do now is check over purchases and pay the bills. Does this arrangement permit me to receive benefits, even though I still own the business?

A. It would be necessary to know just how much time you now spend on the business and the exact nature of the work you perform, but it sounds as though you might not be performing substantial services any longer and should be eligible for benefits.

Auto Theft Frequency

NEW YORK—The chances of your car being stolen rose from 1 in 203 in 1948 to 1 in 157 in 1965, according to the Insurance Information Institute. There were 486,568 cars stolen last year, many of them by thieves who found the cars unlocked and keys in the ignition switch.

Campbell make-up artist wins "Oscar" at International Beauty Fair in Milano, Italy

Layne Marlin, make-up artist for many lovely motion picture actress, will be at Trend Hair Fashions, 1768 Winchester Blvd., Campbell, this week, to give career women, students and housewives, the benefit of his make-up advice.

Marlin was recently acclaimed the "Ponce de Leon of the 20th Century" for his Fountain of Youth make-up artistry. He won top honors at the International Beauty Fair held in Milano, Italy. The event was sponsored by the Continental and Beauty Guilds of Europe. Marlin used models over thirty and carried off the Oscar award for the simplicity and naturalness of his make-up. Pierre Martell, director of the Guilds, had Ava Gardner, Gilbert Roland, Dolores Del Rio, Anthony Quinn and beauty critics from leading newspapers as judges.

SOFT LOOK

Marlin stresses the "pastel look" and the "Golden Touch" in the application of make-up. He believes the feminine look of softness and elegance is the most flattering.

Marlin has made up many world famous movie stars such as Marilyn Monroe, Loretta Young, and also Linda Johnson, daughter of LBJ.

The make-up artist also gave advice on wigs. He indicated that wigs should be individually styled to suit the features of the wearer.

SUN LOVERS

He also had some advice for sun-lovers. He stated cosmetics cannot cover up an over-exposed skin. Sun and winddry out skin. A skin that has been pampered with creams and oils will keep a youthful appearance through the years, he reports. Make-up cleverly applied can conceal circles, acne and a haggard look.

Garden Club commended for Hamilton project

The Campbell Garden Club and the City of Campbell are receiving plaudits from area residents as well as from those who use the traffic lanes on West Hamilton Ave. for the beautiful plantings of eucalyptus trees in the median strips.

The local Garden Club has just recently turned over $100 to the city to be used to complete the ground cover and for decorative rock in the final phase. This is in addition to the $1000 donated by the club for the project in 1966.

The "Hamilton Ave. Beautification Project", as it has been called, is headed by Mrs. Ruth Hartman and Mrs. Minnie Snyder of the Garden Club. The Club raised the money for the project by sponsoring a public drawing. Many civic minded residents contributed to the project. Now the Garden Club wishes to draw attention to the noticeable amount of litter that is accumulating in the strips. They are asking drivers to use litter bags in their vehicles, rather than throw their papers on the highways.

The next project of the club will be to provide funds for the landscaping of one or more entrances to the city. Bill Wren, director of Public Works, commended the Garden Club for their civic responsibility and for "improving Campbell's image."

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD #15

Troop 420, Junior Scouts from Capri School, held a colorful parent-scout night recently. The event was based on World Friendship.

During the past several weeks, the girls divided into small groups, chose a country and proceeded to find everything about it they could. Countries represented were: India, Ireland, Mexico, German, Italy, Hol-Germany, Italy, Holland and Japan. Many girls were in native costume while others wore Girl Scout uniforms from other countries around the world.

Each group prepared tables displaying items indicative of the country they represented. Refreshments typical of the different countries were served to guests. Entertainment for the evening was in the form of folk dancing demonstrations with an invitation extended to observers to join.

It was a truly most enjoyable, and informative evening and very well done under the capable hands of their troop leader Mrs. David McCalment.

Mrs. McCalment would like to express her thanks to the many mothers who gave of their time and efforts in aiding the girls with this project.

Watts Riots

NEW YORK—The riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles in August, 1965, resulted in about $44 million in insured losses, according to the Insurance Information Institute. This was one of 13 major catastrophes in the United States in 1965 which caused $1 million or more each in insured losses.

United Fund chairman reports distribution of $1.3 million

Harry C. Lind, Campbell United Fund campaign chairman, has announced distribution of over $1.3 million in campaign proceeds to 52 local, national and regional agencies in the Central Area Chapter of United Fund.

Central Area Chapter includes Campbell and 10 nearby cities. Lind reports that more than will be allocated this year due to the success of last fall's drive. Campbell helped achieve this success, according to Lind, by raising 103 per cent of its own local goal.

Distribution of funds is decided by the chapter's Allocations and Admissions Committee. This committee is composed of 28 local citizens who voluntarily give their time and effort to help relieve human suffering.

Lind explains that this panel is divided into four separate panels with each panel "hearing" a number of local agency budget requests. Panel members carefully scrutinize each budget, watching for ways to reduce expenses while maintaining a high level of operation and services.

Aware that the amount of money available for distribution will only stretch so far, committee members try to put the funds where it will do the greatest good for the greatest number of people in need.

Four new agencies joined the UF family in the Central Area Chapter and are recieving funds for the first time this year. They are: Catholic Youth Organization's program for East San Jose junior high school students; Institute for Medical Research of Santa Clara County; Rehabilitation Mental Health Services and Santa Clara County Dental Research Foundation.

These latter three agencies, as well as other national and regional agencies, such as USO, are heard by the county-wide A & A Committee.

O.S. Sorenson, manager Bank of America, Hamilton Plaza branch, is a local citizen who served on Panel IV of the Central Area Chapter A & A Committee.

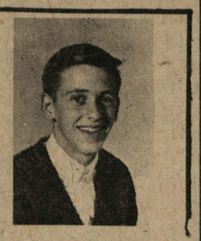
Del Mar Dons win West Valley Athletic League Championship

Campbell Crier



by DAVE TURNER

Thursday witnessed a unique occurence at Campbell High School, as the class of '67 once again scratched its name in the annals of originality. The scene was the cafeteria and the event was Balloon Day, as it has come to be called.

The action began upstairs in the main building. Students gathered there just after the bell rang for lunch, to blow up a mass of balloons with the sole objective of filling the hall with pastel air bubbles.

There couldn't have been more than forty of the balloons inflated when Mrs. Marye Parker, senior counselor, came out of her office and asked that the balloons be removed. "To the cafeteria," someone shouted, and a 20 member caravan made haste for the hash hall, each member carrying three or four balloons.

Once in the cafeteria the balloons were put through every exercise known to their species. Some were sat on and popped, others inflated and released, zipping hither and yon about the large room.

A few people found joy in inflating the balloon and then letting the air escape slowly through a constricted neck, giving a shrill shriek.

But by far the most glorious use found for the playthings, was a gentle rubbing with the hands. The low-pitched moans emitted by such action were, at times of greatest intensity, almost deafening. Faculty members on patrol in the cafeteria didn't know what to think, and on-looking students nearly rolled out of their seats with laughter. Indeed it was so enjoyable, some students later spoke of making Balloon Day an annual affair.

On the 16 and 17 of this month, Campbell High music and drama departments will present the all school musical, "The Boyfriend."

The play was described by Campbell High drama teacher John Hallas, "A satire; a spoof on musicals of the 1920's," which had virtually no plot. The 22-member cast is headed by Gail McEvoy and Don Russell. Both performances start at 8 p.m. and will cost $1.25 for adults and $1 for students.

In addition to a preview of the all school play, parents attending tonight's P.T.A. meeting will see a movie entitled "Hooked". The film, which was shown to all students last Thursday, consists of a series of discussions by teenagers at correctional institutions who have been "hooked" on drugs of various sorts. The meeting will come to order at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

If it weren't such headline news I wouldn't mention it, but the varsity basketball team did succeed in winning a game last Wednesday, when they whipped the faculty by a score of 66 to 58.

In other sports action last week, varsity swimmers trounced Soquel in a meet at Santa Cruz, and the tennis team dropped a 4-3 decision to Mountain View. The varsity baseball team hosted Lincoln on the Buc diamond Tuesday, but the final score was unavailable at press time.

Action this Friday will pit Blackford's mermen against the Bucs in the first league meet for both teams, while the varsity baseball team tests Logan's Colts. Both contests are to begin at 3:30 on Buccaneer territory.

Service awards were also presented to six other PTA members in appreciation for their service and dedication beyond their job requirements. Those recognized were: Mrs. John Lea, Mrs. Raymond Leeper, Mrs. Harry O'Neal, R. Douglas Reinecke, Mrs. R. Watson Taylor and Robert Underwood.

RECEIVES AWARD--Charles M. Reynolds (center) was the recipient of an honorary life membership from the Bucknall Elementary School PTA in recognition of his community activities and interest in youth. Councilman Ed Rogers reports on Latin America

EDITOR'S NOTE: Councilman Ed Rogers, who is on sabbatical leave this semester from San Jose State where he is a professor of political science, is presently touring Latin America on a five-week jaunt.

This is the third letter received from Dr. Rogers describing some of the highlights of his tour. He is accompanied by Mrs. Rogers.

Dear George:

Our journey from Buenos Aires to Montevideo was a short one - about 130 miles across the Rio de la Plata. Uruguay has a population of a little over 2 1/2 million and it is said that about 1/2 the population lives in Montevideo, the capitol. The city itself is divided into three parts, the Cuidad Vieja (old city) founded in 1726 by Spanish settlers, the Cuidad Nueva (New City) of government buildings, museums, and the University of Mentevideo, and the residential districts.

This is a beautiful seaport city and a prosperous one. We took a bus to Punta del Este the large coastal resort area about 90 miles east of Montevideo. The luxury hotels and exclusive shops reminded me somewhat of Vina de Mar in Chile. It was here at Punta del Este that President Kennedy initiated the Alliance for Progress. It is here also that the Organization of American States (O.A.S.) is expected to hold its meeting in April. President Johnson, I understand, is to attend.

GAUCHOS AT WORK

We also drove out into the countryside to watch the gauchos work the cattle. They still dress in the baggy pants, boots, ponchos, and black hats. They are excellent horsemen and it was a pleasure to watch them in action.

From Montevideo we flew to Sao Paulo, Brazil where we discovered that the airport (because of fog conditions) was 60 miles from the city. Counting the flat tire enroute, it took us almost as much time to reach Sao Paulo from the airport as it did to fly from Montevideo to Sao Paulo.

Sao Paulo is located on a plateau of about 2500 ft. - which means it's a lot cooler than sea-level Rio de Janeiro. It was founded in 1554 by two Jesuit priests and is today the most rapidly growing city in all South America. In fact it grew from 1 million in 1928 to over 5 million in 1966. The city is full of tall skyscrapers, condominium apartments and factories. It resembles Chicago a great deal. There is a lot of hustle, bustle and drive here.

SNAKE FARM

In fact this city and the state in which it is located is the spark plug of Brazil. We also visited the Butantan Institute, one of the largest experimental snake farms in the Western Hemisphere. Here venom is collected from which serum is prepared for world-wide distribution. The state university here is tuition free and the state is now engaged in building a new university to accomodate 45,000 students. It is here at this university where the only atomic research center in South America is located.

BRASILIA

Brasilia was quite an experience. As you know, this is the new (since 1960) Brazilian capital built from scratch 600 miles into the interior of Brazil. The intent is to move the population into the interior of the nation. Over three-fourths of Brazil's population lives 100 miles from the sea coast. The idea was not new. In fact it harks back as far as 1808. Actual construction to build this huge project began in 1957 and the city was formally inaugurated as the new capital in April of 1960. It is very modernistic in design and very impressive. There is still much to do here but already the population has passed the 300,000 mark. The traffic system is very efficient.

Also traffic flows in one direction with no stop lights and cross traffic. A system of "cloves" (actually cloverleaves) and over and underpasses takes care of traffic very well. This is a tremendous project and still hotly debated in Brazil. I personally subscribe to it since I feel it will be the magnet to draw Brazil's population to the west.

DOWN TO RIO

Flying down to Rio was an event we long anticipated. It is a city of four million, situated on the west bank of Guanabara Bay on a strip of land nestled between the surrounding mountains and the sea. The beauty of Rio captures you immediately from the air. Sugar Loaf peak rises out of the sea at the harbor entrance while high above the city at another point, stands the gigantic statue of Christ of Corcovado.

This statue, completed in 1931, is 120 feet high and stands 2400 feet above the city. The view of Rio from here is a sight to behold. Just an unforgettable is the view from Sugar Loaf. Madeleine and I took a suspension car to the summit at dusk and watched the city's lights come on. It was an experience we will never forget. Rio has the setting and Rio is the city of South America.

RIO POVERTY

It is over 400 years old now and one must not look too closely behind the modern apartments, or in the older commercial sections, or in the hillsides surrounding Rio. There is evidence of much poverty and the "Favelas" or squatters, communities peopled by those who came from the impoverished north, create a continuous problem for the city. They build their shanties on the hillsides, cutting down all the soil-anchoring vegetation, then when heavy rains come, mudslides occur which destroy roads, water mains and storm drains, while they themselves are homeless. This has recently happened.

There are over 7500 housed temporarily in one of the soccer stadiums. Water is still unsafe to drink (we are drinking bottled water), electric power is limited and the lights are turned off peridically throughout the day. But despite all this, the essentials of a great city are here and we have enjoyed Rio to the fullest.

We are now reaching the end of our journey and are beginning to think of home more and more. Despite the lures of all of these "far away places" we are both convinced that Campbell is the place for us.

As Ever,
Ed Rogers

Guest artist to show slides of European trip

Grace Runcie of San Jose will be the guest artist at tonight's meeting (March 8) of the Campbell Artists' Guild. The meeting will be held in the Americana Room of the American Savings and Loan Association, 1285 Lincoln Ave., Willow Glen, at 7:30 p.m.

The program will consist of slides taken on a European trip two years ago, and will be mostly of Florence and Venice where many works of art were destroyed by recent floods.

Mrs. Runcie has been drawing since childhood, and works in oils, water color, and charcoal; she has had art instruction in the Campbell and San Jose Adult Education Departments and also at San Jose State. She has taught in the Susanville area, belongs to the Society of Western Artists, Cupertino Fine Arts League, and the Cambrian Art League.

She is interested in pictures of historical significance and at present is working on a large mural depicting the Santa Clara Mission in 1777. The meeting is open to the public.

Scouts deliver Goodwill drive bags

Some 8000 Santa Clara County Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts this week are taking the first step toward keeping their pledge of collecting upwards of 40,000 bags of wearable/repairable clothing and other household articles for Goodwill Industries.

Occasion is the 11th annual county-wide observance of "Good Turn Day". The initial step is delivery of empty Good Turn Day bags to households throughout the county. Delivery of the empty bags is expected to be completed by this Saturday, March 11, according to Max Poyntz, Goodwill campaign coordinator for the drive.

On the following Saturday, March 18--the official Good Turn Day ---Scouts and Cubs will return for the filled bags and other donations. They will transport these collected materials to some 60 schools which have been designated as collection centers.

The goal of 40,000 filled bags will provide approximately 80,000 man-hours of job training for handicapped men and women job trainees being served daily at Goodwill.

1 YEAR AGO

Incumbent city councilmen, Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde, will by opposed by John Billmeyer and Ted J. Bauer in the city election on April 12.

Observers of the county political circles are expecting an announcement shortly that Robert Brydon, long time rancher and active school worker, will file for the new 24th District Assembly post.

Among suggested names for the proposed Santa Clara Junior College campus are El Camino Real, Claraval, Catala, Portola, Jose Moraga, Junipero Serra, Joaquin Miller, Guadalupe, and El Dorado.

5 YEARS AGO

About 8000 phone users in Campbell and Saratoga are now on a streamline telephone service. Those with telephone prefixes of UNion 7 and FRanklin 8, or their all-numeral equivalents of 867 and 378 respectively, no longer have to give an operator their number when dialing long distance calls, according to Pacific Telephone Manager T.R. Lynch.

Although a drenching downpour has given the Santa Clara Valley rain this last week, an appeal for general conservation of water in Santa Clara was issued by Kenneth R. Johnson, chairman of the Agriculture Committee, Greater San Jose Chamber of Commerce.

10 YEARS AGO

City Planners will get into the act on the much-discussed location for the new Campbell Post Office tonight when they hold a public hearing on the request for a use permit and parking and setback variances for the construction of a proposed post office building at N. First St. and Campbell Ave.

Valentines given this year by students at St. Lucy's school were markedly different from the ones usually exchanged by most children throughout the nation. Their messages of love were the coins they would have spent buying Valentines for their friends but which they unanimously decided to give to the Hungarian Relief Fund.

Hurricane Deaths

NEW YORK—Five thousand persons lost their lives in the 94 hurricanes which hit the United States in the past 50 years, the Insurance Information Institute reports. The highest single-year death total was 1,836 in 1928.

W. V. College offers best counseling service

West Valley College's counseling services are among the best offered students in a survey of 77 public junior colleges in the state, according to a survey just completed by Jerry H. Girdner, dean of student personnel at the college.

Girdner's survey, which drew a 100 per cent response, was reported to the Board of Trustees at its meeting Thursday night, and showed ratio of counselors to students counseled.

College of the Desert, Palm Desert, rated No. 1 in the state, with one counselor to 272 students counseled.

San Jose City College rated fourth this year, down from second place last year, with one counselor to 308 students counseled.

West Valley was in a tie for 12th place with Cuesta College, San Luis Obispo, and Merritt College, Oakland, each with a ratio of one counselor for 368 students. West Valley moved up from 15th place last year, Girdner reported.

Foothill College was 23rd, with one counselor to 429 students.

ENROLLMENT

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, reported final registration figures for the spring semester, as of March 1, as a net figure of 5685 students, of which 3142 were day students and 2543 were extended day students.

The Board also heard that 258 students, or 8 per cent of the total day student body, had been named to the Dean's List, requiring a "B" average or better. In the spring semester last year, 183 made the list, for a 41 per cent increase.

Girdner reported that in each of the five semesters the college has been operating, the Dean's List had grown from two per cent the first semester to eight per cent this year.

A new innovation, a Dean's List for part-time students, resulted in 298 students being named, Girdner said, or about 20 per cent more than the day list. This list was comprised of students carrying from six to 11 1/2 units with a "B" or better average.

"A" STUDENTS

Girdner also recognized nine full-time "straight A" students, including Helen Cain and Mary A. Smith, both of Campbell.

Campbell to present "Boy Friend" March 16, 17

TOO BUSY TO LOOK AROUND--Paint crew members Dale Ammerman and Jean Dusharme, plus carpenters Bill Barnes, (foreground) and Bill Phalp spend a Saturday afternoon readying the sets for "Boyfriend", Campbell High School's play to be presented March 16 and 17.

BY SALLY HOWE

If you hear sounds of hammer blows and saw blades ripping, and if the sounds are mixed with occasional grunts, groans, and giggles, and it's all coming from the Campbell High School auditorium, don't push the panic button.

They're not tearing down the building.

In fact, they're doing some building UP. And, the city fathers aren't even concerned that it's only temporary construction!

It's like this: It's a play, a musical play, and the sounds you're hearing are those made by a very industrious cast and stage crew at work.

The results of their labors will be judged on March 16 and 17. That's when the curtain goes up on "Boyfriend", Campbell High's all-school play.

Directing their labors is John Hall, school dramatics teacher. And he has a lot of help: Kay Pruvich is designing sets for the musical spoof, as well as rehearsing for a principle part in the action. Construction crew is led by Bill Barnes, technical director, and include: Linda Fouts, Mike Gruenwald, Melanie Knight, Sue Wilson, Gail McEvoy, George Akina, Lynn Kraus and Ed Northup.

Props director is Bobbie Boe; lighting is Clint Moran. His crew members are Don Carney, Lance Taylor, Kathy Tawill, and Toni Young. Robin O'Hara is costume designer, and the costumes are being sewn by a PTA committee headed by Mrs. Virginia Wilson.

Prompter is Laura Haggerty, and Toni Young is doing publicity.

The musical portion of the play is directed by Bill Perkins. Musicians are: Michal Prettol, Kathy Tawill, Sandy Stromberg, George Taniguichi, Hoyt McEvoy, Him Von Hermann, Marty Lico, Mark Weber, Gary Haas, Kevin Marcyes, Perry Rogers, Charles Ontiveros, Brenning Waters, Terry Fischer, and Dale Marmion. Chorus members are Diane Walden, George Akina, Vick Moraga, Lee Jacobus, Diane Crews, Bill Barnes, Jean Dusharme and Jan Kelly.

Cast members are: Mike Stanizewski, Lynn Krause, Mark Ammerman, Linda Fouts, Kay Pruvich, Don Russell, Gail McEvoy, Greg Stewart, Ron Hogan, Cathy Hughes, Mark Ebner, Cheryl Coffman, Howard Duckett, Jan McCall, Rocky Fagundas, and Leesa Nickeson.

Instructor Hall has directed several successful plays and musicals for the school. "Our Town" is scheduled next. Hall is also working towards a permanent summer workshop in fine arts at the school.

So, the "sounds" might continue all year 'round.

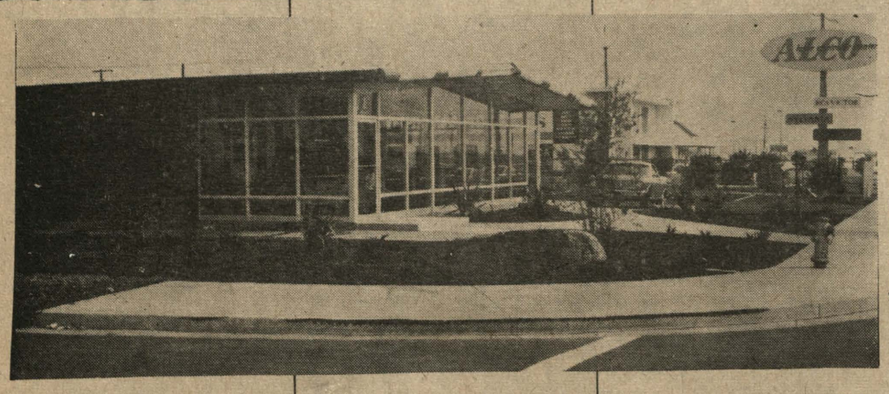
BUSINESS NEWS

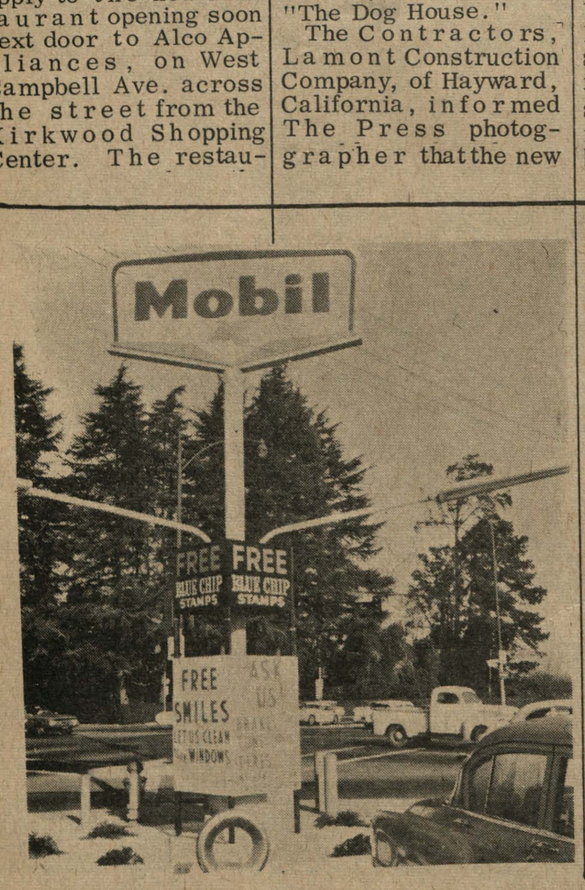
NEWS ABOUT LOCAL BUSINESSES, AND BUSINESS PEOPLE

UPSTAIRS...DOWNSTAIRS...ART IS THE THING--In the unusual photo above, is shown the unusual in art gallery planning. This most attractive, and "artfully" arranged studio is the HOUSE OF FINE ARTS, at 2559 Bascom Ave., and is owned and managed by Mrs. Robert Krandel, whose husband is vice-president of First Savings and Loan, in San Jose. Mrs. Krandel operates the lovely gallery as a "vocational-avocation", and emphasizes quality art work in her displays. "Authentic local, national, and international art, with no 'mass produced' pieces being acceptable", were Mrs. Krandel's words. Local artists seem to prefer the setting for display of their work, and fine original oils are available for the public view.



SIGN UP?--The "sign's the thing", should aptly apply to the new restaurant opening soon next door to Alco Appliances, on West Campbell Ave. across the street from the Kirkwood Shopping Center. The restaurant, soon to have the all-important sign installed, will be called "The Dog House."

The Contractors, Lamont Construction Company, of Hayward, California, informed The Press photograpgher that the new business is owned by Berkley Matthews, superintendent of the Union School District. Mr. Matthews was unavailable for further information last Friday at deadline time, but more information will be forth-coming.



ALL SMILES--Mel's Mobil Service, Hamilton and Bascom, beats them all with FREE give-aways. A "smile" with each purchase, or entirely free if you only come in to have your windshield wiped!

The popular station has featured many a gimmick to boost business, as most service stations around him plied customers with free "this-and-that". "We find that the REGULAR CUSTOMERS come in for GOOD SERVICE, and a pleasant smile," Mel stated when interviewed. "Our policy is, and always will be, "SERVICE WITH A SMILE". You can't beat that with any kind of "gimmick"!

NO UNION SCALE EITHER--Four stage crew members of Campbell High School's current production "Boyfriend" are busy constructing and painting sets for the play. The "tall" girls are Jean Dusharme and Dale Ammerman. Under the ladder is Bobbie Boe. Bill Phalp is the man with the hammer.

LET'S MAKE IT LIKE THIS--

Kay Pruvich, set designer for Campbell High School's play "Boyfriend", March 16 and 17, and Mark Ammerman, (stage name: Percival Brown), consult on the design of one of the settings for the musical.
